

A20 REGULATIONS

ASIA, AFRICA & OCEANIA CHAMPION TITLE (A20 CH)

At the FCI APAC Board meeting in Taiwan in 2015, the FCI APAC Board amended the rules with regards to the APAC Champion title which was created in 2014. With the official change of name to our Section, the former APAC Champion Title will now be known as the A20 Champion Title. The rules for the title remain unchanged and APAC CAC's won previously will still count towards the newly named title. Please let your members know that this new title name comes into effect on 17th June 2019.

FCI Asia, Africa & Oceania Board of Directors
15th June 2019

Many FCI countries have been awarding "Regional Titles" to dogs which have which have met the requirements for them to achieve the specific title. In The FCI Americas Section for example, they have a few regional titles such as Pan American Champion, Latin American Champion and the likes. These titles are awarded at shows held specifically for these titles in countries within the FCI Americas Section and have attracted many exhibitors to consider attending these shows, to the point that even dogs from other continents travel transcontinental just to enter these shows and to attain the title.

With the diminishing number of entries worldwide, many countries and Sections have found ways and means to attract more exhibitors to enter their shows and "titles at stake" play a major part in enticing more entries to join the shows.

Presently, the Asia, Africa & Oceania Section does not have any regional titles. These titles are not "illegal" as far as FCI is concerned and they have no jurisdiction over such regional titles.

Therefore, the creation of the Asia, Africa & Oceania (A20) Champion would be a good way to promote our dog shows and entice dogs from overseas to attend our shows.

Organization of AAO Shows:

1. Each NCO may organize FOUR Asia, Africa & Oceania Championship Shows/ FCI A20 Championship Shows (A2OCS) in a calendar year and must be shows organized by the NCO and not affiliate clubs, unless NCO approval is given to affiliate clubs.

Any NCO that wishes to organise more than four A2OCS in a calendar year, may apply for TWO more A2OCS provided they furnish proof of the nominated additional show getting a historical entry of more than 300 dogs. In the event that the additional A2OCS is sanctioned but the number of exhibits at the show falls short of 300 exhibits, then the organizing NCO will still be liable to pay the A2OCS levy for a minimum of 300 dogs.

2. Countries that are geographically large, are encouraged to have the shows in distinct geographic locations to give all exhibitors a chance to participate for this title.
3. The date, place of the A2OCS will be at the discretion of the NCO, but no two NCO may organize A2OCS on the same weekend.
4. It is recommended that the judge(s) of the A2OCS MUST be from the an FCI Asia, Africa & Oceania member country, or at least the BIS MUST be judged by a judge from an FCI Asia, Africa & Oceania member country.

Larger NCOs with diverse geographical regions who wish to allow individual clubs within their countries organize A2OCS shows will be responsible for ensuring that the A2O rules be upheld at these shows and similarly responsible for the corresponding payments also.

Cost of title

1. The NCO will pay a fee of USD$2 (two) per dog entered to the FCI Asia, Africa & Oceania Secretariat for the A2OCS.
2. Each home NCO should include this levy/surcharge in their entries at A2OCS CAC shows.
3. Within two (2) months of the A2OCS, once the final report is supplied by the organizing home NCO of the A2OCS, together with the catalog for the show, the FCI Asia, Africa & Oceania secretariat will then issue a bill to the home NCO. A2OCS Champion Title certificates will only be issued if all levies have been duly paid to the FCI Asia, Africa & Oceania secretariat. The FCI Asia, Africa & Oceania secretariat will issue the ASIA, AFRICA & OCEANIA CHAMPION certificates at no cost.
4. A failure to pay the fee within 6 (six) months of the Invoice date will result in the A2OCS CAC's awarded at the show being revoked.
